PLAYER OF THE WEEK SELECTIONS

2001

Week of Aug. 20-26: Goalkeeper Jeff Wallace, Humboldt State (6-1, 170, Jr., Vallejo, CA), starting in the place of the injured Colin Garon, had nine saves, including seven in the second half, as the Lumberjacks outlasted San Francisco State 2-1, despite playing one man short over the final 26 minutes.

Week of Aug. 27-Sept. 2: Joe Watson, Seattle (F, 5-8, 160, Jr., Auburn, WA - Auburn Riverside) and Cody Hagler, Western Washington (F, 6-2, 190, So., Canby, OR - Portland). . .Watson recorded three goals and an assist as the Redhawks won three of four games with CCAA opponents, including a 2-1 overtime win over previously unbeaten Sonoma State Sunday. Hagler had a pair of game-winning goals as the Vikings defeated UC San Diego 1-0 and previously unbeaten Chico State 2-1 in overtime. He also scored twice in a 5-2 loss to Grand Canyon last Monday.

Week of Sept. 3-9: Ian Chursky, Seattle (Forward, 5-10, Jr., Federal Way, WA - Decatur & Tacoma CC) and Michael Schefter, Seattle Pacific (Midfielder, 6-0, So., Yakima, WA - West Valley). . .Chursky scored twice, including the game-tying and game-winning goals, in a 3-1 non-conference win over Western Washington. . .Schefter scored three goals in a pair of road wins over Cal Poly Pomona and UC San Diego.

Week of Sept. 10-16: Eduardo "Lalo" Serrano, Humboldt State (Forward, 6-1, Jr., Toluca, Mexico) scored three goals, including two in a 3-0 shutout of Dominican and the game-winning goal on a penalty kick in a 2-1 conquest of Fresno Pacific.

Week of Sept. 17-23: David Smith, Seattle Pacific (Forward, 6-3, Fr., Corvallis, OR), playing in his first games of the season after recovering from a pulled hamstring, scored the game-winning goals in victories over Sonoma State and UC Davis as the Falcons extended their winning streak to four games.

Week of Sept. 24-30: Grant Falco, Seattle Pacific (Forward, 5-9, Jr., Veradale, WA - University) and Brandon Sewell, Seattle (GK, 6-1, So., Federal Way, WA - Decatur). . .Falco scored two goals and also had two assists as the Falcons extended their winning streak to six with a pair of victories. In SPU's 3-2 win against San Francisco State, he set up one goal and then beat two defenders and hit the game-winner from a difficult angle along the end line. He then notched another goal and an assist in the Falcons' 6-0 conference win over Northwest Nazarene. . .Sewell had seven saves and turned away numerous crosses in the box to record his second shutout of the season in a 1-0 win over California State-Bakersfield. "Brandon made several-what I call-goal-saving saves, and when you only have a 1-0 lead, that is huge," said SU head coach Peter Fewing. "He read the game very well, came off his line extremely well and distributed the ball well."

Week of Oct. 1-7: Joe Watson, Seattle (Forward, 5-8, Jr., Auburn - Auburn Riverside) scored one goal and assisted on the other as the Redhawks defeated Seattle Pacific 2-1 for their first victory on SPU's home field in 23 years. Watson is currently tied for the GNAC scoring lead with Eduardo Serrano of Humboldt State. Both players are averaging 1.50 points per game. In 10 contests, Watson has scored five goals and also has five assists.

Week of Oct. 8-14: Trevor Stoneberg, Northwest Nazarene (Forward, 5-9, Sr., Meridian, ID) scored in overtime as the Crusaders ended a four-game losing streak with a 3-2 win over Northwest Nazarene Friday. He also scored two goals in a 5-1 win over Evergreen State on Saturday.

Week of Oct. 15-21: James Ward, Seattle Pacific (Forward, 6-0, Fr., Salem, OR) came out of the net to rally the Falcons to a win and a tie in a tournament at Incarnate Word, Tex. In the two contests, Ward scored three goals, including the game-winning goal in a 3-2 win over St. Edwards, and the tying goal in a 3-3 draw with Incarnate Word. He also had two assists.

Week of Oct. 22-28: Danny Ferris, Seattle (F, 6-1, Sr., Yakima - Eisenhower) scored two goals in a 4-1 win over Western Washington and added two more in a 6-0 victory over Humboldt State as the Redhawks clinched at least a tie for the GNAC title with a pair of victories. Ferris has scored at least one goal in four consecutive games.

Week of Oct. 29-Nov. 4: Eduardo "Lalo" Serrano, Humboldt State (Forward, 6-1, Jr., Toluca, Mexico) scored twice, including the game-winner in the 27th minute of overtime as the Lumberjacks rallied from a 2-0 deficit to defeat Seattle 3-2 in a non-conference game. A week earlier, the Redhawks had beaten HSU 6-0. Serrano currently leads the GNAC in goals (11) and points (25).

The victory helped Western Washington keep pace with Northwest Nazarene in the chase for the GNAC championship.

Week of Oct. 24-30: Offensive: Owen Gortner (Seattle Pacific, F, 6-1, Sr., Bellevue, Wash. – Loyola Marymount Univ.): Gortner scored both of Seattle Pacific's goals as the Falcons collected a 2-1 win over Western Washington on Saturday. Gortner played 67 minutes in the match and had three shots. Defensive: Ed Weise (Seattle Pacific, D, 6-1, Sr., Redmond, Wash. – Eastlake): Weise anchored the Seattle Pacific defense for 85 minutes in the Falcons' 2-1 win over Western Washington on Saturday. The Falcons allowed the Vikings just six shots in the match, none in the first half, and only three on goal. Weise also had an assist on the what proved to be the game-winning goal in the 77th minute.

Week of Oct. 31-Nov. 6: Offensive: Andrew Tran (Seattle Pacific, F, 6-0, Fr., Seattle, Wash. – Garfield): Tran scored two goals and had two assists in the Falcons' 9-0 drubbing of Saint Martin's on Monday. Tran scored his goals in the 34th and 64th minutes and tallied his assists in the 40th and 60th minutes. Defensive: Sawyer Price (Northwest Nazarene, GK, 6-3, Jr., Olympia, Wash. – Olympia): Price made eight saves in two matches and helped lift Northwest Nazarene to two victories and its first GNAC championship. Price made two saves and had a rare goalkeeper assist on the first goal of the Nighthawks' dramatic last-minute scoring barrage in a 2-1 victory over Western Washington on Thursday. He added six saves against 16 Seattle Pacific shots in Saturday's 3-2 title-clinching win over the Falcons.

Week of Aug. 28-Sept. 3: Offensive: Koji Poon, Simon Fraser: Getting his collegiate career started with a bang, Poon lifted SFU to a come-from-behind victory over Stanislaus State last Thursday. With the Red Leafs facing a 1-0 deficit at halftime, the true freshman scored his first collegiate goal in the 60th minute to pull the scoreline level. Just three minutes later Poon struck again, punching home what proved to be the match-winner in the 63rd minute. Poon followed his brace with a 72-minute effort in SFU's 2-0 win over Westmont as the Red Leafs got their campaign started with a 2-0 record. Defensive: Kolja Thomas, Montana State Billings: Leading the Yellowjackets to a 2-0 start to their season, sophomore center back Kolja Thomas contributed on both sides of the ball on opening weekend. Thomas provided a goal in the 38th minute of their match against South Dakota Mines on Friday, a finish that proved to be the game-winner in the hosts' 2-1 triumph. Thomas followed with his second straight 90-minute performance on Sunday, this time helping MSUB to a clean sheet with a 1-0 victory over Carroll College.

Week of Sept. 4-10: Offensive: Raymundo Mendez, Seattle Pacific: Mendez filled up the stat sheet for the Falcons, racking up six total points with a pair of goals and a pair of assists. The junior from Yakima, Wash., was efficient with his chances, scoring on two of the three shots he took on the weekend. He started his week with a goal and an assist in SPU's 4-3 loss at Point Loma, before repeating the feat in the team's 4-3 win at Concordia Irvine. The transfer from Columbia Basin College put his name onto the GNAC Newcomer of the Year watch list and enters this week tied for second in the conference with three goals. Defensive: Brandon Locke, Western Washington: Locke was instrumental in the Vikings' 3-1 win at Concordia Irvine Thursday, making three saves to earn his first victory of the season. The senior from Federal Way, Wash., followed with three more denials in the Vikings' tough 1-0 loss at Point Loma on Saturday. Locke has totaled 11 saves this season and ranks third in the conference with a goals against average of 1.25.

Week of Sept. 11-17: Offensive: Albin Jonsson, Western Washington: Leading the Vikings to a pair of victories last week, Jonsson tallied three goals including two game-winners. Jonsson tucked away his first finish just 20 minutes into the Vikings' 3-0 triumph over Colorado School of Mines on Thursday. He followed with a 15th-minute strike against Regis on Saturday, which held up as the game-winner in the 2-0 result. Jonsson vaulted his name to the top of the GNAC leaderboard with five goals this season. Defensive: Justyn Sandhu, Simon Fraser: Sandhu was instrumental in the Red Leafs' undefeated weekend, as he played all 180 minutes between the posts without conceding a goal. Sandhu made seven saves – one off his season high – in SFU's 1-0 victory over Fort Lewis on Thursday while facing 16 shots. He followed with four more saves against Colorado Mesa on Saturday, playing a crucial role in the eventual 0-0 draw against the Mavericks. Sandhu ranks second in the GNAC this season with 5.00 saves per game and first in the conference in both goals against average (0.67) and save percentage (.882).

Week of Sept. 25-Oct. 1: Offensive: Alejandro Velasco, Western Oregon: Velasco vaulted to the top of the GNAC goals leaderboard with three finishes last week, giving him six on the season to lead the conference. With the Wolves trailing 2-0 early in the second half Thursday against Simon Fraser, Velasco pulled his side level in the blink of an eye with goals in the 64th and 65th minutes. After the brace in the eventual 2-2 draw, Velasco helped the Wolves grab three points on Saturday with a goal and an assist in WOU's 2-0 blanking of Montana State Billings. The seven-point week firmly bolstered the Highline CC transfer's name among the candidates for GNAC Newcomer of the Year. Defensive: Sawyer Price, Northwest Nazarene: Claiming one point in each of their first two conference games, the Nighthawks relied heavily on their shot stopper in both matches last week. Price had three important saves in a 1-1 draw against Seattle Pacific as the Falcons produced steady looks with 11 total shots. In the game against the Vikings, two of Price's six saves were highlight reel stops including a diving push on a powerful strike from 20 yards out that displayed his footwork and technique. Overall on the week Price came away with nine saves and kept his side alive in both matches. Price claimed his sixth-career player of the week award, moving him into a tie for second most in GNAC history with Jason Cascio of Seattle University and Brandon Madsen of Saint Martin's. "He did a great job," said NNU head coach James Williamson. "Give credit to the whole group for defending well and limiting their chances. WWU had two or three that were decent looks, but on those two or three Sawyer had himself in a good position and was able to get a good jump on it. He provided good leadership, and he is steady and reliable. Our guys can really trust him."

Week of Oct. 2-8: Offensive: Jim Wagenaar, Northwest Nazarene: The conference's first hat trick of the season belonged to Wagenaar, who continued his stellar debut collegiate campaign with three goals in the Nighthawks' wild 4-3 defeat against Western Oregon. With his team trailing 2-0 early, Wagenaar pulled the Nighthawks level at 2-2 with goals in the 49th and 61st minutes. When the Wolves scored in the 69th minute, Wagenaar found yet another equalizer 10 minutes later to complete the hat trick. The big performance lifted him to the top of the GNAC leaderboard with seven goals scored this season. "It's tough for a freshman to come in and do well right away, but he has come in and has really worked at assimilating to the culture we have," NNU head coach James Williamson said. "He has started to thrive in the last few weeks. He has been a really good team first guy, he is consistently putting in quality reps in front of goal, and he helps us get better every day. The biggest thing that stands out is his unwavering confidence in himself, which is vital for a striker. He has been wonderful to have and is a great piece to the team culture." Defensive: Cam Welty, Seattle Pacific: Seattle Pacific's first shutout of the 2023 campaign came with Welty in net, as the graduate student from Issaquah piloted his team to a 3-0 result over Montana State Billings. While just two saves were required of the fifth-year program veteran, one of them came in a breakaway one-on-one situation that prevented the Yellowjackets from taking an early lead. Welty's first-career shutout helped the Falcons grab three points to move into a tie for third in the conference standings. "I'm excited for him," said SPU head coach Kevin Sakuda. "He was great off his line, managed his box well and came up with a couple big saves when we needed them. We ask a lot from our goalkeepers as far as building out of the back and initiating our attack, and he was very solid with that. It was a really good team performance Saturday and he was a big reason why. It's great to get shutouts and we know if we are going to be successful moving forward that we have to keep the ball out of the net."

Week of Oct. 9-15: Offensive: Jim Wagenaar, Northwest Nazarene: One hat trick wasn't enough for Wagenaar, who became the first player in GNAC history to achieve the feat in back-to-back games when he netted three goals in NNU's 4-0 blanking of Montana State Billings on Thursday. The reigning GNAC Men's Soccer Offensive Player of the Week doubled down on the award adding a fourth goal for good measure in Saturday's 2-2 draw at Saint Martin's. Wagenaar bolstered his case for GNAC Freshman of the Year by upping his goals total to a conference-leading 11 – eight of which have come in the Nighthawks' five conference matches this fall. Defensive: Justyn Sandhu, Simon Fraser: Perhaps the league's top statistical goalkeeper, Sandhu leads the conference in goals-against average (0.73), save percentage (.849) and shutouts with five. With his seven stops last week the senior upped his season save tally to 45 and 4.09 per game, which both rank third in the conference. "In the way we want to play, you need somebody in goal who is technically proficient and can play out of the back," said Schneider. "We like to take risks and go forward, and we want our guys to be free to go score. If you don't have the confidence in your goalkeeping and defenders, that changes. Justyn is that kind of guy - he is very even-keel and he has high demands for himself as we have high demands for him. We talk about the different areas he can improve upon every week, because his aspirations for playing are far beyond SFU. His focus is here, but it's our job to make sure we are preparing him for the next level."

Week of Oct. 16-22: Offensive: Michael Hennessy, Simon Fraser: Hennessy could not be stopped last Thursday, scoring all five of his goals in a 40-minute span in the middle of the match. He put the Red Leafs ahead 1-0 in the 20th minute capitalizing on a defensive mistake, before perhaps his most notable finish of the afternoon in the 22nd minute. Receiving a pass from senior captain Devin O'Hea, Hennessy expertly touched a one-time effort off the post and into the net from a tight angle. He completed his hat trick six minutes after halftime and never looked back, adding goals in the 56th and 60th minutes for the top individual performance by a GNAC player thus far in 2023. "Michael's second goal was exceptional," said Schneider. "It is really hard to hit a ball like that at that angle. He hit it very quickly and put it in a place where nobody could stop it. It was a tremendous goal." Defensive: Juan Suarez, Western Oregon: Suarez helped the Wolves keep pace with the Red Leafs in the GNAC standings, recording his fourth shutout of the season in WOU's 1-0 triumph over Northwest Nazarene. Suarez totaled six saves – his fourth-highest single-game mark in 2023 – while going up against an NNU offense that averages 1.31 goals per game. Suarez enters this week leading the GNAC with 66 saves (5.50 per game) while holding a goals-against average of 1.42 and a save percentage of .795.

Week of Oct. 23-29: Offensive: Gabriel Silva, Western Oregon: Helping keep the Wolves alive in the GNAC men's soccer title chase, Silva led all GNAC players with three goals scored to help his team go 1-0-1. Silva was paramount in WOU's gritty 2-2 draw against Western Washington last Thursday, notching his second brace of the season including a crucial game-tying goal in the final minute to salvage a point. Silva followed that by scoring 1 of 4 WOU goals in a 4-0 rout of Saint Martin's last Saturday. The WOU newcomer upped his season goal count to nine, which ranks him third in the conference. Defensive: Enrique Gomez, Western Oregon: Anchoring the WOU defense last week was senior captain Enrique Gomez, who was instrumental in the team earning four points. Gomez helped the Wolves claim the conference's lone shutout of the week with their 4-0 win over Saint Martin's, and in total played 170 of 180 minutes across the back line. A mainstay in the WOU lineup, Gomez has started all 14 matches this year and has played all but 20 minutes for the title-hunting Wolves.

Week of Oct. 30-Nov. 5: Offensive: Raymundo Mendez, Seattle Pacific: Mendez completed the conference's fourth hat trick of the season, finding the back of the net three times in the Falcons' 3-3 draw at Western Oregon last Saturday. Mendez was a constant menace in the attacking third, landing three of his five shots on target in 88 minutes played. Mendez spotted his team an early 2-0 advantage, scoring in the sixth minute and turning in the brace in the 17th minute. Mendez struck again just before halftime, completing his hat trick in the 43rd minute. The big week lifted Mendez into a tie for second in the GNAC with 11 goals scored this fall. Defensive: Justyn Sandhu, Simon Fraser: Simon Fraser was the lone GNAC side to record a shutout last week, and it came at the hands of goalkeeper Justyn Sandhu. The Red Leafs' last line of defense came away with six saves in SFU's 1-0 triumph over Northwest Nazarene, a match in which he was tested with a dozen shot attempts. Sandhu leads the GNAC in both goals-against average (0.80) and save percentage (.826).

Week of Nov. 6-12: Offensive: Devin O'Hea, Simon Fraser: Leading SFU to its eighth GNAC men's soccer title on Saturday, O'Hea capped a stellar regular season with his first weekly honor of 2023. The senior ensured there would be no letdown in a must-win match against Northwest Nazarene Saturday, finding the net and providing an assist in a 5-1 rout of the Nighthawks that clinched the conference title. That came after he scored SFU's lone goal in a 2-1 defeat at Montana State Billings last Thursday.

O'Hea finished the regular season with nine goals and nine assists, and recorded points in all but one of SFU's 11 conference matches this fall. "The person who was most consistent in making sure we put in top performances this season was Devin," said SFU head coach Clint Schneider. "Devin was the best player on the pitch in each of the previous two games, but what changed on Saturday was that we had even more players elevate themselves. He has been one of better players on the pitch all season long, and the team benefits from Devin being at the level he's at. On Saturday in that kind of game, where you need players to rise, Devin rose." Defensive: Juan Suarez, Western Oregon: Suarez helped the Wolves to victory in their lone match last week, making three saves in WOU's 2-1 triumph at Seattle Pacific. Suarez upped his save count to 79 on the season and ranks second in the GNAC with 4.65 saves per game. The big performance on Saturday helped WOU finish in second place in 2023, as the Wolves narrowly missed out on a GNAC title in just their second season of existence.
