THREE IN AND THREE TO GO: The logjam in the quest to qualify for next week's GNAC Men's Basketball Championships is starting to clear out a bit.

While Seattle Pacific entered last week as the only school assured of a berth, Western Washington and Northwest Nazarene both won two games to clinch the next two spots in the field.

The Vikings opened the week with a sound 71-61 win over Saint Martin's on Thursday. They secured the playoff position for sure by beating the Falcons in Carver Gym on Saturday, 73-68. The game snapped SPU's six-game win streak and made WWU just the second conference team to beat the Falcons this season.

Western Oregon and Alaska Anchorage need just one win in the final week of the regular season to clinch berths. The Wolves will have the benefit of being at home, hosting the Seawolves on Thursday and Alaska on Saturday. Alaska Anchorage will close at Concordia on Saturday.

Alaska could clinch a playoff spot for sure with two wins on the Oregon road trip. Central Washington also remains in the mix and will close the regular season at Saint Martin's on Thursday and at Seattle Pacific on Saturday.
