Around The GNAC

CONFERENCE FARES WELL IN RIVALRIES: It was a light week across the GNAC thanks in part to final exams, but a quartet of rivalry contests made for some exciting basketball throughout GNAC Country.

The most telling of the contests came in Billings, where Montana State Billings improved to 6-3 on the season with a 96-85 win over crosstown rival Rocky Mountain. The Battlin' Bears had been ranked in the NAIA Division I Preseason Men's Basketball Poll and was still receiving votes at the time of the game.

The Yellowjackets shot 53.8 percent from the field in the victory behind a 34-point performance from junior guard Tyler Green that was good enough for GNAC Men's Basketball Player of the Week honors.

In the only conference game of the week, Alaska succeeded in its first win over in-state rival Alaska Anchorage since 2014. The Nanooks came back from six points down with three minutes left in the game for the 68-67 win in Fairbanks.

Saint Martin's and Western Oregon also prevailed in contests against crosstown NAIA rivals. The Saints had little problem in Friday's 94-57 win over Evergreen State, shooting 49.3 percent from the field and outrebounding the Geoducks 48-31. The Wolves took an 88-66 win over Corban on Saturday, buoyed by 17 Warriors' turnovers that resulted in 29 WOU points.

Western Oregon and Western Washington will be the most active teams in the conference in the lead-up before the Division II holiday break. The Wolves will play at Hawaii Hilo on Friday before joining the Vikings at the Hoops In Hawaii Division II Power Invitational. Western Oregon will open against Division III Emmanuel while Western Washington opens against West Region foe Chaminade.
