SEATTLE - After completing a perfect 12-0-0 run in conference play, Western Washington clinched the GNAC regular-season title and the No. 1 seed in the GNAC Championships, hosted by Seattle Pacific on Nov. 14-16 at Interbay Stadium.

Western Washington topped the conference standings with 36 points and ran away with the regular-season title. The Vikings dominated on both sides of the ball, outscoring their GNAC opponents 45-3 and registering nine shutouts.

Host Seattle Pacific will enter the GNAC Championships as the No. 2 seed and will meet third-seeded Western Oregon in Thursday's second semifinal match at 7 p.m. Central Washington returns to the GNAC Championships for the first time since 2016 as the No. 4 seed and will go head-to-head with the Vikings in the tournament opener at 4 p.m.

Western Washington and Central Washington met twice during conference play. The Vikings took the first match, 2-0, in Bellingham then edged out the Wildcats, 2-1, in Ellensburg in the second meeting. The last time the in-state rivals faced off in the GNAC Championships was in 2014 as the Vikings picked up the 2-1 victory.

Seattle Pacific and Western Oregon split their two meetings this year. The Wolves snagged the first match, 2-0, in Monmouth, but the Falcons got their revenge in the second meeting, escaping with a 2-1 win in double overtime in Seattle. This is the Wolves' first appearance in the GNAC Championships since 2013.

allowed just six goals this season, leading the GNAC with 13 shutouts. Junior goalkeeper Natalie Dierickx tops the conference with eight shutouts and a .850 save percentage.

Seattle Pacific is led by one of the GNAC's top duos in junior forward Sophia Chilczuk and freshman midfielder Chloe Gellhaus. Chilczuk leads the conference with 60 shots and is tied for third with seven goals. Gellhaus has shined in her freshman campaign with six goals and an assist.

Western Oregon returns to the GNAC Championships under first-year head coach Kacey Bingham. The Wolves are led by junior forward Alyssa Tomasini, who scored nine goals and added seven assists to lead the GNAC with 25 points.

Central Washington will look to junior goalkeeper Emily Thomson to anchor the Wildcat defense. Thomson registered 63 saves and four shutouts and is third in the GNAC with an .808 save percentage. Sophomore midfielder Sydney Lowe paced the offense with three goals and three assists this season.

The winner of the GNAC Championships will receive the conference's automatic berth to the NCAA Championships.
